FIRE STRIKES AT S. AND S. SINK TOP CO.

A fire of undetermined origin at the S. & S. Sink Top company on the first floor of the old Citizens Bank building, on Kansas st., Frankfort, at about 10:30 last Saturday night, caused an estimated loss of $2,000, and brought out three volunteer fire departments — from Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox.

The fire was confined to the basement, where it fed on timbers, flooring, joists etc., and as the damage was caused mostly by water, an accurate estimate of the total loss cannot be made until the plywood has dried out, to determine how much was warped and damaged, and how much can be reclaimed. As the fire did not get upstairs, only a few pieces of plywood were actually damaged by fire. Five-gallon buckets of glue were stored on the premises, but none was damaged.

The firemen did not have a smoke ejector and were forced to use gas masks to get into the building, because of the dense smoke. They used a portable electric plant to obtain power to see what they were doing.

The fire was first noticed by Grace Blaylock, prop. of the Frankfort Tavern, across the street from the building, who sent in an alarm.

It took about a half an hour to get the fire under control. The Mokena and New Lenox fire departments stayed on the job for two and a half hours, and the Frankfort department left later, at about 1 a.m.

It was thought the fire was caused by faulty wiring.

Alvin Gullickson is janitor and caretaker of the building.

He is survived by his widow, Bertha (nee Nelson), three brothers, August of Mokena, Philip of Joliet and Fred of Buffalo, N.Y.; three sisters, Mrs. Emma Coughlin, of California, Mrs. Lena Helps of Klemme, Ia., and Mrs. Lizzie Wason of Clarion, Ia.

Renowned Chemist To Lecture On 'Fire Magic' Monday

Dr. Llewellyn Heard of Whiting, Ind., research chemist for Standard Oil company and the first man to show a television audience how gasoline is made, will give a lecture demonstration of "Fire Magic" at the Frankfort School gym Monday, March 14, starting at 7:30 p.m., under the auspices of the Frankfort Lions club.

Dr. Heard, who taught chemistry at the University of Georgia in the early '30's, brings along six packing cases of laboratory equipment for use in his show. He punctuates what Chemical Week calls his "droll explanation" of combustion with smoke rings, green flames, and minor explosions. The experiments show how complex research is, but the technical details are reduced to layman's language.

"Fire," Dr. Heard says, "is the oldest chemical reaction used by man. Yet millions of dollars are spent every year in research on fire. Much of the research seeks to build better fires in the cylinder of your automobile. That is one reason why oil companies have been able to keep prices down to a reasonable level while constantly raising quality."

Dr. Heard's own scientific specialty is catalysts—the materials that speed up and direct chemical reactions. As part of his show he uses a single drop of a powerful liquid catalyst to cause a reaction to take place.

As the catalyst for another reaction, he uses ultra-violet light. An aviation enthusiast who rents and flies light planes for relaxation, Dr. Heard joined Stanford in 1936 after receiving his Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins.

An admission charge will be made.

Frankfort To Have Referendum On Police Protection

At the village board meeting in Frankfort Monday evening it was decided to draft an ordinance which would call for a referendum on the proposition of providing revenue for the purpose of police protection in the village. This proposition will be voted on at the regular village election April 19.

The amount to be so appropriated which is extendable under the proposed rate of 16¢ is $2,633.62, same being computed upon the last known full fair cash value as equalized or assessed by the department of revenue.

Complaints were received concerning dogs running at large in the village with or without licenses. Such dogs when caught will be disposed of.

It was also decided that, starting March 15, all water bills that are not paid, will be shut off until paid and with extra charge for turning on the water.

A resolution was passed that citizens should be advised not to buy centennial novelties except from the local committee which is headed by Norton Blaylock. This is to prevent outside commercial groups from selling such and thus preventing the village from receiving the profits from same.

SOPHOMORES AT L-W TAKE APTITUDE TESTS

Last week was another busy week in the guidance testing program at Lincoln-Way with all sophomores taking a series of tests called the Differential Aptitude tests. Aptitude tests are designed to help a person discover in which areas he should be able to develop abilities or skills with additional training.

The battery of tests taken by the sophomores included tests of numerical ability, space relations, mechanical reasoning, clerical speed and accuracy, and language usage. It was administered by Mrs. Gorman, Miss Jane Gillogly, Charles Ellermann, and Ralph Wright.

The tests were rented from the office of special services, Bradley university, Peoria, and the answers will be scored there by I.B.M. machines. The students will learn about their test results from their teachers and counselors who will assist in interpreting the test results.

As with other guidance tests, the scores on these tests will not affect report card grades, but they will become a part of the permanent record of each student.

Parents Notified of Test Results

Parents of Lincoln-Way high school freshmen students recently received letters telling them about the results of guidance tests which their children took earlier in the year. The tests were the Diagnostic Reading test and a test of primary mental abilities. The reading tests were administered in the English classes by Miss Theresa Hartman and Mrs. Alice Gorman, freshmen English teachers. The PMA tests were given in the social studies classes by the teachers, Earl Dieken and Jonas Lashmet.

The report to the parents included a description of various parts of each test and an approximation of the students' scores. This information was passed on to the parents in the hope that it would help them to understand each student's strengths and weaknesses and be of value in selecting high school subjects and making career plans. Parents who wish additional help in interpreting the tests scores are invited to make an appointment with the teachers, counselors, or principal.

There will also be an opportunity to discuss the tests at the April P.T.G. meeting when there will be a panel discussion of the guidance program followed by a question period.

Tells Need Of Self Expression Through Music

The Frankfort Community Band Parents are intensely interested in the success of their school band. The association meets from time to time, when important matters are discussed. All band instruments are taught, and up to this time the band, has been progressing in fine shape.

Mrs. Rudolph F. Guzik, a member of the Band Parents, and a teacher of music, has submitted the following, under the caption, "Nothing Beats the Band," in the interest of stimulating interest in band music.

"People from all walks of life have learned the joy and thrill of self-expression through music. Music is continuing to grow in the schools, in class room instrumental instruction, bands and choruses. Hundreds of business and industries are sponsoring musical activities for their employees. Today the town band is popping up in many cities, towns and villages because so many adults as well as children want to play their musical instruments together.

"America is not a nation of spectators — it has become great because people want to do things for themselves. It was fun to play music with friends at school, and it is fun to play with neighbors in community groups.

"There is a special kind of pride in what we create for ourselves, no matter how humble it may be. In having a community band, this feeling may be shared by all who consider themselves a part of the community; for while the players probably derive the greatest satisfaction from being the creators of the music, the people take pride that this music comes from within their own community — that it is another community resource that makes for enjoyable living."

High School Boys Do Fine Job Of Repairing Roads

As road workers, Robert De Forest, Jr., and Randall Potter are pretty good. A grateful resident of Woodland Circle, a subdivision south of Mokena, states that for days the roads in North Woodland Circle were almost impassible to motor traffic because of the deep chuckholes caused by trucks and cars which had gouged the road and threw the filling into the ditch. Complaints of these terrible road conditions were made a resident stated, without results.

To the rescue came Robert and Randall, both first year students at Lincoln-Way high school. The boys spent many hours for two days on the roads, with pick and shovel, filling up the holes. They dug the "filler" from the ditches and worked like Trojans until every hole in one of the roads was filled.

"It is remarkable," said the Woodland Circle resident, that two young boys could do a job like this."

HOLD OPEN HOUSE FOR FARM FOLK

An open house for all local farm folks will be held Saturday, March 19 at Moss Equipment in New Lenox, to introduce the first of the new line of five Farmall tractors to be received in this area.

The five new tractors constituting 16 models were recently announced by International Harvester Co., in what the company said was its biggest tractor development program since the first Farmalls were produced in 1923. They are the new one-plow Farmall Cub, one-two-plow Farmall 100, two-plow Farmall 200, three plow Farmall 300, and four plow Farmall 400.

Mr. Moss said he expects to have the new tractors ready to show farmers. On display with them at the same time will be other new McCormick farm equipment including Forage Harvesters, Discs, Harrows, Wagons, Refrigerators, Trucks and numerous other items.

"The new line of Farmall tractor models was designed," Mr. Moss said, "so that a farmer can get a Farmall of the right size, and equipped with the new features and implements that exactly fit his needs so he can do more work better, easier, in less time and less cost."

New features, he pointed out, include the new Farmall Fast-Hitch developed last year, and which is available for each new tractor. Four of the new Farmalls have more powerful engines; all have new or improved hydraulic systems for easier and more accurate implement control; the Farmall 300 and 400 have the new torque amplifier and independent power take-off, and all have new operator conveniences for the driver.

Coffee and donuts will be served free.

Martin Sisters To Present Travelogue 'African Safari'

An exciting 37,000 mile safari that takes you to South and Central Africa will be presented by the Martin Sisters, well-known globe-trotting photographers and travel artists when they give their exciting adventure travelogue, African Safari on Thursday evening, March 24 in the Lincoln-Way high school.

The Martin Sisters spent three months traveling by safari from the Cape of Good Hope northward to Nairobi, Kenya and the Belgian Congo. They had ample opportunity to photograph some of Africa's most spectacular scenery and colorful native and wild life. "Air flips" over breathtaking Victoria Falls, hunting with the pygmies of the Belgian Congo, the tribal dances of the Zulus, and life on an ostrich farm are just a few of the adventures which make African Safari unusual and appealing entertainment for the entire family.

Presented in gorgeous native costumes from Central Africa, African Safari will be given in three parts — adventure tales, motion pictures in natural color and a tribal dance of the Watusis of Central Africa.

Mysteries of the jungle and the witch doctors, weird native customs and an all-around evening of adventure await those "passengers" who plan on enjoying African Safari.

According to the Martin Sisters who have now visited over 75 countries and islands, "Traveling is always an adventure! But Africa, well — there's no place like it in the world."

Centennial Beards Cause Squawk From Frankfort Wives

There is a persistent rumor to the effect that a group of wives in Frankfort are rebelling against the growth of whiskers by their husbands to add color and charm to Centennial Days, to be celebrated sometime in August. One housewife, it is said, absolutely forbids her husband to encourage the hirsute adornment, and said she would have no part of it. And that was that!

Some of these wives have seen the "cheek to cheek test" on television, and will be satisfied with nothing less than a smooth-shaven husband, Centennial or no Centennial. The idea of seeing their lesser halves strutting around town looking like Abe Lincoln does not appeal to them one bit.

There is no confirmation of this, but it is said that one housewife who has not used a rolling pin for many years has threatened to use one — on her hubby — if he dares follow the Frankfort trend of sideburns and whiskers of the vintage of 1861.

The men contend that Samson's strength lay in his hair, and that the strength of the coming Centennial lies in their beards, and they want no Delilahs coming along with a pair of shears to snip them off. They are getting into the swing of raising beards like eager-beavers, and almost any time of day can be seen looking into the mirror.

When it comes to vanity, midlady never had anything on them!

Letting the beard and sideburns grow and the adoption of plug hats to roll back the years about a century is gaining more and more vogue as more and more communities reach the hundredth milestone. Much of this is done every year at the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. Another notable example is held in Golden Spike Days, which started in Omaha in 1939, to celebrate the driving of the final spike in the union of the Union Pacific and the Central Pacific somewhere in Utah. Thousands of Omaha men began growing beards over a period of months, while their wives began fitting themselves out with crinolines and stays. Golden Spike Days continued for a few years and then petered out. Whether it was because the ladies did not want to see their menfolks grow a few inches of stubble on their cheeks will never be known.

Plans for construction of a NIKE guided missile anti-aircraft installation approximately one and one-half miles south of Orland Park, were discussed last evening in a conference between military and local civic officials. Walter W. Schussler, Mayor of Orland Park, presided over the meeting, held in the village hall in Orland.

Orland Park is located 15 miles southwest of Chicago.

Selection of the site was based by military experts upon precise mathematical calculations in accord with a strategic pattern for the metropolitan defense area, and was formally approved by the Army Anti-aircraft Artillery command and the Department of Defense.

No missile will be fired from any site except in time of emergency, and no unit firing will be conducted on the site, the Army spokesmen said.

The location of this NIKE unit in the vicinity of Orland Park should in no way disturb the normal community life, it was learned from Colonel Thomas M. Lerner, commanding officer of the 22nd Anti-aircraft Artillery group. He also explained that the land requirement for the site selected in relatively small, approximately 44 acres. Only the minimum acreage required for emplacement, operations of the weapons system, and for safety protection of the neighborhood will be utilized.

The NIKE guided missile, developed by the army with industrial research assistance for the Nation's defense weapons system, is named after the goddess of Victory in Greek mythology, and is the end product of eight years of guided missile research and engineering. It is a surface-to-air guided missile capable of seeking out and intercepting aircraft traveling at supersonic speeds.

Unit personnel contemplated for this installation will consist of 21 officers and 182 enlisted men, with an average of 35 percent of the personnel being married men. They and their families normally make their residence within the neighboring community, depending upon the available facilities.

Military traffic to and from the weapons site will be negligible. No large vehicles are contemplated by the army at any site.

Construction on the Orland Park site is scheduled by army engineers to begin in the near future and is scheduled for completion in early 1956, it was announced following the conference.

Since the first of this year, guided missile defenses have been progressively developed to guard Chicago and other population centers of the country against any enemy attack from the air. The first such unit was installed at Ft. George G. Meade, Md.

In next week's issue further information on this project will be given.

six grade Intermediate Scouts will be hostess to about 70 Brownies, from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. They will play games, and Mr. Glenn Miers will show two Girl Scout movies. Refreshments will be served. The orange drink will be furnished by Webers and Schiek's dairies.

All Brownies are cordially invited to join in the fun.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

March 6, 1955

Mrs. Margaret Semmler
Editor and Publisher
Semmler Newspapers
Dear Mrs. Semmler,

It was only after reading the "Reader's Viewpoint" these past few weeks that I really came to know "The Fox." I had been under the assumption that in order to see a fox, a nearby zoo would be the place to go. But with these letters, it now appears that "Mr.
Fox" has overrun our large cities, small towns, and country sides to the dangerous point where he is practically a threat in the elimination of all mankind.

But the character and cunning habits of the fox were of most interest to me. While I eat grapes, I find that he destroys them. I like honey on my flap-jacks, but "Mr. Fox" only devours honey. He sucks eggs, but I prefer them scrambled. He carries off poultry in the same manner as a woman shopper leaving a meat market. He stays in his den during the day while I am out providing for my own. In the eve when I return to my den, he goes out for his own. He avoids poisoned bait as I do a speeding car in my path or a shy looking salesman trying to sell me a gold watch for $2.00.

That the fox is very susceptible to rabies, I did not know, but I know that I am susceptible to colds, chickenpox, m u m p s, measles, diphtheria, dysentery, rabies, polio, pneumonia, and atomic radiation.

It really seems that the only way to hunt out and destroy these hordes of foxes is to organize into groups and destroy them as we do each other.

However, in closing, if a fox knocks at my door, I'd offer him coffee and cake providing he brought in a hunter.

Sincerely yours,
Albert J. Zemeske

be Rev. Robert S. Kieser of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Springfield, a blind minister with his seeing eye dog.

Your Income Tax

If you are sweating over your income tax, thinking the deadline is March 15, as it has always been, sit back and relax, for the deadline this year has been advanced to April 15. Many people do not know of this change in the deadline, therefore this notice.

This month despite income tax worries will be welcomed by all who make a "return," but caution should be taken not to put it off too long. April 15 is just around the corner.

WILCO 'SMALL FRY', PONY LEAGUE NEWS

Representatives from the villages of Beecher, Frankfort, New Lenox, Peotone, Steger and Tinley Park met Feb. 28 in the office of the B & M Lumber company at Frankfort to determine how many teams may be officially considered as entered in each league as Feb. 28 was the deadline for payment of the $10 entry fee for each team. While some of the representatives were not present due to the heavy fog, they phoned and expressed their good intentions and their word was accepted in good faith.

The Small Fry league will consist of teams but will be divided into two divisions, with Frankfort, Manhattan, Mokena, New Lenox and Tinley Park in one division and Beecher, Matteson, Monee, Peotone and Steger in the other. Each team will be eligible to 25 players on their roster, but only 15 boys may participate at any one time, with the other 10 being held in reserve to fill in possible vacancies or in the event some reserve proves to have superior ability may replace some regular during the course of the season. Vacations will likewise play an important part in the reserves. The regular team must not have more than five players having reached the age of twelve, five players having reached the age of eleven and five players ten years old or younger. Should a player reach the age of thirteen prior to August 1st, he will be considered as being thirteen years old from the start of the season and will not be eligible to play as a "small fry."

A schedule will be drawn up whereby each team will play a total of 15 games of league play and here again the season will be split with the probability that eight games will be played during the first half and seven games during the second half. The teams finishing first in their respective divisions will have a playoff for first place honors. Should different teams win the first and second half playoffs they will meet for the league grand championship.

The Wilco Pony league will consist of six teams with representation from Beecher, Frankfort, Manhattan, Mokena, Peotone and Tinley Park. The other villages are not yet ready for representation in the Pony league.

The players in the Pony league will be limited to boys in the thirteen and fourteen year age bracket. Here again should a player reach the age of fifteen prior to August 1st he will be ineligible to compete during the entire season.

The "small fry" games will be played during the week with games scheduled for Mondays and Thursdays. The games are to start promptly at 6:30 p.m. and any pre-game practice will need to be completed before that time.

The Pony league games will probably be played during the week ends, either on Saturday or on Sunday afternoon. This will be discussed at the next meeting of the league as there is a possibility the games may be played on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

The next league meeting has been scheduled for Monday, March 21 at the same location. Voris Miller of Tinley Park is the league president, Warren Baker of Peotone the vice president and Walter Bockelman of Beecher is the secretary and treasurer. —John Porick, pub.

SEEK ELECTION ON L-W BOARD OF EDUCATION

Three candidates have secured petitions for membership on the Lincoln-Way Board of Education. Lester B. Case of Manhattan and Ray Reiter have been on the Board of Education since the district was formed several years ago. They are both seeking reelection for the regular three year terms. Lorin Schleeter of Manhattan is filing for the two year unexpired term of George Bovee. Mr. Bovee announced his resignation at the last meeting, effective March 1. The present members of the board decided not to make an appointment to fill this vacancy since the time before the election is so short. In addition, they were of the opinion that the voters should make the selection in the regular procedure. Mr. Schleeter in announcing his candidacy pointed out that he lives in approximately the same rural area represented by Mr. Bovee, and has one daughter in high school. He is also an active member of the Lincoln-Way PTA. At the time the school district was formed, the Citizens' Committee recommended that the representation on the Board of Education be kept evenly distributed between the three townships with Frankfort Township having three members, and New Lenox and Manhattan having two each. At present, Mr. Krusemark is from Frankfort, Mr. Kohl from Mokena, and Mr. Dixon from Lincoln Estates. Mr. Earl Robinson from New Lenox is the other member on the board.

'First Robin' Causes Flurry In Alpine
by Violet Mrosek
"When the red, red robin, comes bob-bob-bobbin' along," spring fever becomes epidemic and everyone goes into a flurry of spring cleaning before gardening time.

Mrs. Rose Walker and Mrs. Stuart Culo called minutes apart Friday with the news that each had seen a robin. To Mrs. Walker's robin goes the distinction of having been the first.

"I wonder if it's the same robin that built her nest in the framework of our gas tanks last year," she queried excitedly.

"H-m-m-m-m" thought Mrs.

Mrosek, as she hung up. "If robins have any sense that robin and her whole brood will be building nests around those gas tanks."

(It might be recalled that the Walker and neighborhood children took care of the Walker robins' food problems last year.) Mrs. Culp was no less excited, and Mrs. Mrosek was surprised at the gawky in her voice. Mrs. Culp had been suffering from an acute and prolonged attack of the doldrums that she had begun to fear were becoming chronic.

"But you sound as fit as a fiddle today," observed Mrs. Mrosek today.

"I am. I feel great. It's spring!"

However, Friday was not the kind of a day to cause one's thoughts to turn to spring.

"Do you know what," said Mrs. Culp, "I just found 12 robins out by my grape arbor."

Since then, one may well wonder if all these robins took wing and migrated south.

NEW HOUSE TRAILER BURNS ON ROUTE 30

A new house trailer burned Wednesday afternoon, March 2, on route 30, near the Walona motel, under rather peculiar circumstances.

At 3:30 p.m. that day Donald Randall, of Breckenridge, Mich., was hauling a new house trailer from the factory at Alma, Mich., to a dealer in Wisconsin. When he was about 200 feet east of the Walona motel on route 30 he noticed he had a flat tire, and he stopped in front of a farm house. As he jacked up the trailer he noticed smoke coming from it, so he called the New Lenox fire department, which soon extinguished the fire. The firemen towed the trailer to a spot on the shoulder of route 30, just opposite the Walona motel.

Randall arranged for a room at the motel, intent on staying over night. At 3:15 Thursday morning there was a loud knocking on the door of the owners of the motel, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ruthenbeck, whose room in the motel The Ruthenbecks were informed that a trailer was afire nearby. The New Lenox fire department was summoned for the second time and responded promptly. However, this time they were too late to save the trailer, which was still burning fiercely at the time they arrived, but too far gone to save. However, they were able to save a pole of the Public Service company alongside which the trailer had been parked.

There was no damage to the tractor, which had been disconnected, but the house trailer, valued at $4500, was completely destroyed.

It was explained that the cause of the fire was the flat tire which had become heated through friction while being run before its condition was discovered. These trailers are made of metal and so thoroughly insulated that when a fire starts it is difficult to locate it. The fire had evidently been smoldering somewhere in the trailer, without any indication of its being there, and finally flared into a blaze hours after the fire department left.

MOKENA METEORS IN FAST GAME WIN 3RD PLACE IN TOURNAMENT

The Mokena grade school Meteors climaxed the 1955 basketball season with a resounding 40 to 19 victory over St. Pat's of Joliet, Saturday, March 5, to win third place in the second annual New Lenox tournament. The triumph gave the team a final overall record of 22 wins and 8 losses for the season. Saturday night's win was the work of the entire team as they showed remarkable fight and spirit. It was an especially impressive win since St. Pat's had some within 4 points of upsetting New Lenox the previous night. Haehnlein led the team as he played the best game of the year for the Meteors. He scored 12 points, making 8 out of 11 free throws, and was a sparkplug on defense. The game was the last for seven Mokena boys as they graduate in June. Bremen Cagers Lose To Thornton, 85 -- 42

Thornton's Creach (24) seems poised for a fast get away as Bremen's Linsay (25), Miller (32), James (23), and Tinley's Ron Galina (12) move in on defense. Bremen dropped their initial tournament try to Thornton of Harvey, 85-42.

Thornton Wildcats Lick Bremen Braves In Harvey 85, 42

Bremen high school Braves wound up their 1954-55 basketball season by losing to the Thornton Township Wildcats, 85-42, in the initial game of the regionals held in Harvey March 1.

Spurring ahead 5-0 in the opening minutes of play, the Bremenites enjoyed their sole lead of the evening. Thornton behind Russ McKibben and Ed Creach then moved into the scoring column and racked up a 17-7 first period lead which never was challenged.

In the second stanza the Braves could muster only eight points against the Thornton tall men who were busy pouring in 16 tallies to hold a 33-15 margin at intermission.

Both teams set a blazing pace in the third frame with the Wildcats on top of a 28-17 scoring spree. Dick Graham, Bremen guard, counted two field goals and made good on seven of nine chaity tosses to tally 11 markers in this period.

During the fourth quarter the Harvey lads added 24 points to their score to wind up with an 85-42 victory.

Bremen hit 22 per cent from the field which is far below its season's average, and this might well be attributed to Thornton's decided height advantage.

High man for the Braves was Dick Graham with 13 points while center Al James was close behind with 12 markers.

The braggart was letting everybody know that he could bend a horseshoe with his bare hands. All of a sudden one farmer had enough. "That ain't nothin' to brag about," he said. "My wife can tie up ten miles of telephone wire with her chin."

I am answering the many letters that are coming in from worried mothers as follows:

"I am in full sympathy and accord with your statement that you do not approve of our boys being slaughtered in another Korea so that the people who want war will be happy. However, I feel sure that a firm stand such as President Eisenhower has outlined will do more than anything else to head off another Korea.

"President Eisenhower's request to Congress for the passage of a resolution approving his plan to use the American Fleet and Air Force, now in Asiatic waters, to protect and defend Formosa against Red aggression is a step toward preventing war, not toward provoking war. The President is convinced that a firm stand now -- with Congress and the President joining hands in the proposal -- will head off Red aggression. Believing the President to be right in his conviction, I voted 'Aye' on the resolution. The resolution was adopted 409 to 3.

"I have ten good reasons for wishing to avoid war: namely, two grandsons and eight grand-nephews of draft age, to say nothing of the thousands of sons of draft age of former pupils of mine in whom I still have a personal interest.

"Ever since President Roosevelt recognized Soviet Russia in 1934, the world has been in a continual turmoil, with one war following another as a result of our appeasement policy. Firmness and force constitute the only program the Communists understand.

"If we had followed the advice of General MacArthur at the time he was fired by President Truman, we would have completed the job then, won a decisive victory over the Communist hordes in Asia, and have headed off the present situation in Formosa and Indochina. We are now paying the price of our former weak, vacillating, appeasing methods in dealing with the Communist menace.

"President Eisenhower's firm stand now may have come too late. I hope and pray that it is not too late.

"With kindest personal regards and best wishes for peace in our time, I remain

Your sincerely,
N. M. MASON"

GROUND WATER

By Roberts Mann,
Conservation Editor, Forest
Preserve District of Cook County

We take for granted and are familiar with our surface waters—ponds, marshes and lakes; brooks, creeks and rivers on their routes to the sea. Maps usually show them in blue. Hidden beneath the land, however, and somewhat mysterious to most of us, are large reservoirs of Ground Water. We know it is there because of the water supplies we get from wells. We encounter it in basements, tunnels, mines, and in caverns such as Mammoth Cave. It is a vital resource, but except in times of drought, or in problem areas where the water tables are falling and wells are going dry, too little attention has been paid to ground water, its movements, and how to conserve it.

Ground water is the supply which saturates and permanently fills all the spaces in the subsoil, or the glacial drift, or the bedrock, or the deeper layers of porous rocks such as sandstone. Its upper surface is called the Water Table, which may be anywhere from a few inches to hundreds of feet underground. Above the water table the earth is saturated only after a long spell of wet weather.

Ground water is replenished by the downward seepage of rain and melting snow; also by seepage from ponds and lakes, or from stream channels. Ordinarily it moves downward and onward very slowly, percolating rather than flowing thru the minute spaces it finds. The direction and speed of travel depend upon what kinds of rocks lie underground, how their layers slope, and what kinds of surface deposits lie above them.

Ground water may reappear as springs and seeps on hillsides, or along water courses where it helps to maintain stream flow in dry weather. It may find its way to a subterranean stream which is carving channels and caverns thru a limestone formation. Or it may not reappear until, perhaps years later and hundreds of miles away, it is pumped up from a well drilled into a porous rock far beneath the surface.

In the Chicago area the bedrock is Niagara limestone which, because of erosion by glaciers, varies greatly in thickness. It outcrops or lies very near the surface in some places but usually is overlain with glacial drift or ground-up rock materials which may be a hundred or more feet thick. This drift and the seams, crevices and other openings in the Niagara limestone provide a large storage capacity for ground water which supplies thousands of shallow wells.

Beneath the Niagara lies a thick stratum of shale. Beneath that are layers of limestones and water-bearing sandstones. About 2000 feet down, we encounter a very thick bed of sandstone—the Mt. Simon—which lies above the dense primeval granite. These layers of rock slope upward so that, as we travel north and west to the Rock River and on thru Wisconsin, we find them outcropping on the surface where they absorb the rainfall which filters downward thru them.

Many towns and hundreds of industries which require cooling water, have drilled wells into the deeper sandstones. Before the beginning of this century, most of those around Chicago were artesian or flowing wells. Now, however, the total pumpage exceeds 65 million gallons per day and is so concentrated in some places that the water table has dropped as much as 400 feet and the effects are noticed in other wells 30 or 40 miles away.

Fortunately, we have an inexhaustible supply in Lake Michigan if it can be piped to us.

Scouts Prepare For Jamboree At Niagara-on-Lake

Canada's invitation to the Scouts of 100 countries to attend the Jamboree of New Horizons at Niagara-on-the-Lake, August 10-28, has brought encouraging response. To date, they have registrations from India, China, South Africa, Venezuela, Mexico, Jamaica, Switzerland, Italy, France, Leichtenstein, Great Britain, the Scandinavian countries, United States and Canada.

Region 7 intends to fill its Jamboree quota of five troops with 165 outstanding young men who will truly represent our four great states. Rainbow Council's quota will be for two outstanding Explorers.

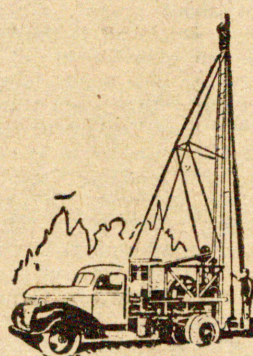

Present plans call for holding the Pre-Jamboree training camp at Camp Sauk Trails, six miles east of Gary, on U.S. 20, Aug. 10-13, 1955. On Aug. 13 at 12:23 p.m. the boys will leave Gary, Ind., on the Pennsylvania railroad's "Manhattan Limited," arriving in New York the next morning. They will visit Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa, arriving at Niagara Falls, Ont., Niagara-on-the-Lake, Aug. 19. They will return to Chicago Aug. 28.

The total fee, all inclusive (not counting uniform) is $225. The regular Jamboree uniform will be bought by the applicant and worn for the Jamboree.

At least a first class Scout, bronze or ordinary sea award must be earned by the applicant before Aug. 1, 1955.

There's even more to Chevrolet styling than meets the eye!

This is beauty with a bonus . . . for Chevrolet styling is designed to add safety and comfort while you drive, and to return greater value when you trade.

Truly modern lines are shaped by usefulness. You can see what we mean in the deep crystal curve of Chevrolet's Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a dramatic style note, certainly, but one that stems from the need for wider, safer vision. Or take high-set taillights—they add to the impressive length of line . . . but they are up where they can be seen for safety's sake.

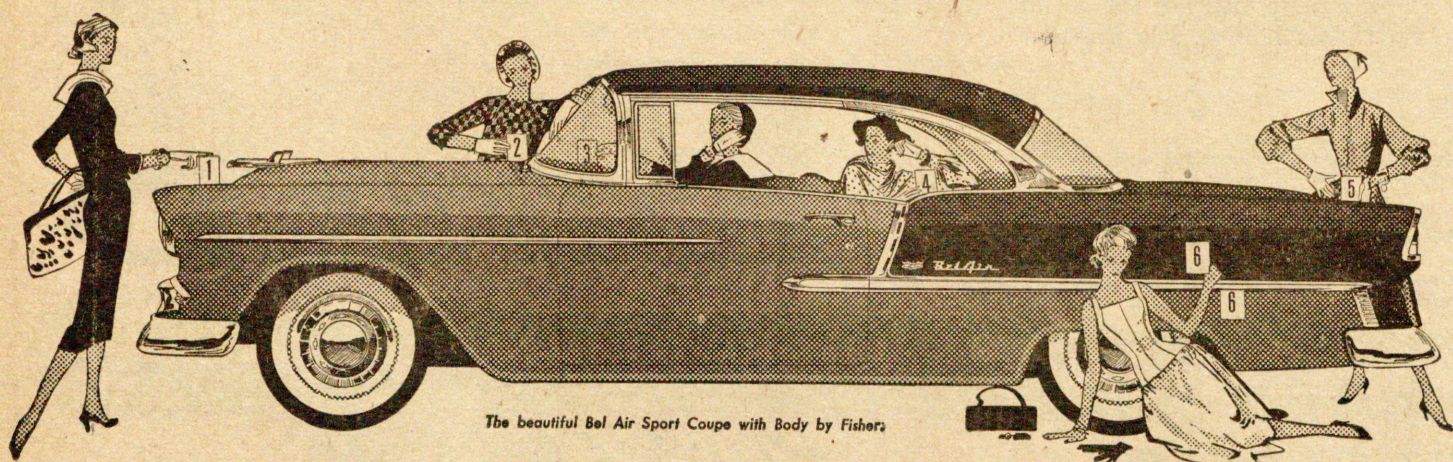

The smart louvers across the hood aren't just decoration . . . they mark the intake for the High-Level ventilation system for cleaner, fresher air. And the whole shape of the body—its lowness, the dipped belt line—is merely a reflection of a lowered center of gravity, the added stability.

This is truly functional styling that serves you better every mile, and preserves its value against the distant day when you trade. This is Body by Fisher—another Chevrolet exclusive in the low-price field. Come in and let us demonstrate that this new Chevrolet is just as exciting to drive as to look at!

I'VE HAD ENOUGH! I'M GETTING A Gas INCINERATOR!

IT BURNS GARBAGE AND TRASH INDOORS...
FOR JUST PENNIES A DAY!

I'm through with the nuisance of a frozen garbage can—and a trash burner covered with snow! Through with the nuisance of stray dogs overturning the garbage can . . . (and who had the messy job of picking it up? Me!) Never again will I have to worry about garbage odors attracting rodents and insects!

Yes! From now on, I'll dispose of all our burnable rubbish indoors the easy—practical—sanitary way! Just wrap it—drop it in the GAS Incinerator—and forget it! It burns anything burnable—even meat bones—completely—down to a fine, powdery ash. (And incidentally, that ash is a marvelous soil and plant food!)

My husband is all in favor of getting a GAS Incinerator, too. Especially since he asked some of our neighbors how they like theirs. He found they're inexpensive, cost just pennies a day to operate, and actually pay for themselves! When you have a GAS Incinerator, you don't need expensive Scavenger Service!

How to Pray

Lesson for March 13, 1955

PRAYER is contact. It is contact between man and God. It is contact of the finite with the Infinite. A Christian, a real Christian, who does not pray, is as absurd and impossible a figure as an athlete who never leaves his bed, a student without a brain, a human being who never eats. Not to pray is to lose contact with the living God. "Prayer is the Christian's vital breath" as the old hymn says.

Dr. Foreman knows this but many feel puzzled about it all the same. Our prayers seem feeble and useless and we may even be tempted to give them up entirely, but many who give up praying would keep on if they only knew how.

Ask!

There is so much in the New Testament about prayer, that a person may well read it through with this one question in mind. Let any reader who wants to try this, start out with a good translation of the New Testament (the R. S. V. for instance or some other modern and readable version) and a blank notebook. In each day's reading notice every reference to prayer—who prayed, why, how, what the result was; or what is said about prayer (as for instance by Jesus and Paul). Some points, it will be found, come out over and over again. Others may be touched on rarely. But few days will go by without the reader finding something that can be jotted down in the notebook, which may have for a title: What I Have Learned About Prayer from the New Testament. One thing will certainly come out from the first: Prayer is something God expects of all His children. Prayer is a privilege but it is also a duty. You can raise all the riddles about prayer you can think of—and they are many. You can think of all sorts of things that scare you away from prayer—your own insignificance, God's greatness, the strong possibility that you may not know what is really best for you, and so forth. But all those things were true when Jesus gave His friends those three simple commands: Ask! Seek! Knock! There are blessings that come only to those who ask. There is light to be found only by those who seek. There are doors that open only to the voice of prayer. Without confidence, prayer ends before it starts.

In Jesus' Name

One thing Jesus said has met with much misunderstanding: "If ye ask anything in My name, I will do it." It is not right to think of this promise as attaching a magical influence to the form of words "In Jesus' name, Amen." It is not true that any prayer ending with those words is a prayer that will be answered, and any prayer not ending with those words will not be answered. That is not what Jesus meant at all. Take the story of the two prayers, the publican's and the pharisee's (Luke 18:9-14). Would the pharisee's prayer have been answered and honored if he had ended that proud petition, or rather that prayer of thanksgiving, with the words "In Jesus' name"? Of course not. If he had added such words they would have been out of place. A prayer in that holy Name is truly in the Name only when it expresses the mind of Christ, only when (so to speak) he could sign his name to it. The more nearly our prayers are like what our Lord Himself would think of, the more nearly they will come to being fully answered.

Our Lord's Prayer

The most famous prayer in the world, the one most often repeated by Christians, is the Lord's Prayer. Jesus did not intend this as a formula. A Christian who never prays except in these exact words would not have understood what Jesus taught about praying. What Jesus did mean by giving us this prayer is to show us the "manner" of prayer—that is, the lines on which true prayer must be made. The reader is encouraged to study this short but wonderful prayer again and again, as a guide to his own talks with God. One very important thought is in the very first word: "Our." If the first "How" of prayer is confidence in God, the second is harmony with the mind of Christ, and the third is suggested by this word "our"—remembering we are not alone. If any desire is selfish it is desire that God will not bless.

Favorite Recipe

Every housewife has at least one favorite recipe on file that she would like to pass along for the benefit of others who like good things to eat. The following recipe has been sent in by Mrs. Thomas Williams, of Frankfort:

Salted Peanut Cookies

2 cups flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1 cup shortening, half butter or margarine; 2 cups light brown sugar, firmly packed; 2 eggs, 2 cups quick cooking oats, 1 cup crushed cornflakes, 1 cup whole salted small spanish peanuts.

Sift flour once, measure, resist with salt, baking powder and soda. Set aside cream shortening, then gradually beat in brown sugar until mixture is light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in sifted dry ingredients, mix until batter is smooth, add oats, cornflakes, and peanuts and blend. Drop from a teaspoon into a 2 inch round on ungreased cookie sheets, about 12 to a cookie sheet, and flatten slightly with tines of fork. Bake in a 375 degree oven for 10 minutes, or until gold brown. Makes about 72 2-inch cookies.

DEDICATE NEW TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM

The nation's newest tuberculosis hospital - sanitarium was dedicated last Sunday, when officials and civic leaders from throughout the county area gathered at 55th and County Line Road, Hinsdale, to formally place into operation the newly-opened institution constructed by the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District.

The 174-bed hospital-sanitarium, a $3,500,000 plant which incorporates the latest in facilities and equipment for the treatment of tuberculosis, received its first patients on February 14. At that time, 14 county residents who had been under treatment at Zace Sanitarium, Finfield, were transferred to the new unit.

The new hospital - sanitarium, a two-story red brick structure, provides three wings in which patients will stay. The usual 'sanitarium atmosphere' has been avoided not only by arranging most of the rooms for single occupancy, but also by decorating them in a 'home-like' manner. Constant two-way communication between patients and nurses on duty has been provided.

Other outstanding features of the hospital-sanitarium include two air-conditioned surgical units, a chapel-auditorium in which services will be held for members of the three religious faiths, and complete medical and research laboratories.

A two-day open house is planned for May 14 and 15, at which time the public will be given the opportunity to inspect the new treatment center.

BIG BILL

THE COST-OF-LIVING BIRD
(He's twice as big as he was 25 years ago)

"LITTLE BILL"

your electric friend—
he still works for pennies!

How Public Service Company keeps your electric bill down

Today, you're using more electricity but, like most Northern Illinois families, you're getting almost twice as much of it for your money as you did 25 years ago.

One of the ways Public Service Company keeps your electric bill down is through improved equipment like our newest 160,000 kilowatt generators.

These giants squeeze three times the electrical "juice" from every ton of coal as was possible years ago.

So, though cost of living has doubled, electricity, your taken-for-granted life line to better living, costs you less per kilowatt hour than it did back in 1930.

Mrs. E. Mrosek
Orland 41-J-1

Because of Teacher's Institute, March 14, will be a day off for Maue school children.

Several loads of gravel were spread on Maue school's grounds last week. Quite a bit of the same is needed on roads throughout the district.

Another evening of square dancing, under the direction of Robert Laing of Orland Park, was enjoyed at Maue school Friday evening.

The Orland Boy's 4-H club was well represented at the tractor maintenance meeting at the Farm Bureau in Tinley Park, Wednesday evening. Members who attended were Darrell Erickson, Walter Bernard, Walter Reeves, Bob Stoutenhour and Ed. Mrosek Jr.

Board members of the Maue PTA surprised Mrs. Owen Maue with a luncheon party at the Valley View restaurant in observance of her birthday, Wednesday. A delicious birthday cake, which Mrs. Frank Blank had baked for the occasion was served with the lunch. Present were:
Mrs. Charles Henning and children, Charles, Charlotte and Edwin; Mrs. Steven Koveikis and Michael; Mrs. Harwood Stelwa-
gen and Mary Jane; Mrs. Chester
Williams, Mrs. Roy Walker, Mrs.
Garrett Cummins, Mrs. Frank Blank, Mrs. Norman Strassen-berg, Mrs. Raymond Knieriern and the guest of honor, Mrs.
Maue. Following the luncheon, the ladies adjourned to the Henning home where a regular monthly board meeting was held.
The state convention which is scheduled for April was discussed. Following the business meeting, they worked on the cups, ribbons and cards for the hobby show entries.

The Charles Hennings entertained at a birthday party honoring their son Charley and his sixth birthday, Thursday. Party games, cake and ice cream were enjoyed by all. Guests were Charley's sister, Charlotte, his brother, Edwin, Rodney Knier-iem, Billy Blank and Terry Donovan.

Roy Walker narrowly escaped inclusion in an accident involving five cars at the intersection of 167th st., and route 45, Sunday evening. While he was stopped at the stop sign on 167th st., a car traveling past on route 45 suddenly went into a spin on the icy pavement which resulted in collision of four cars. A fifth driver headed his car into the ditch to avoid collision. Mr. Walker states, "It's a funny feeling, just sitting there waiting to be hit and not knowing what to do."

Gregory Zeimis of Chicago spent a pleasant week end with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs.
Henry Puniszko. The Puniszkos have taught Gregory how to play canasta and he and Steven Koveikis, who spends much time at the Puniszko home when Gregory is out, have become very enthusiastic about the game.

The wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Puniszko was observed in various ways this past week. Wednesday the Puniszkos celebrated with a dinner at the Valley View restaurant. Saturday afternoon they were guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Steven Koveikis. Mr. and Mrs.
Roy Lemke entertained in their home Saturday evening. Canasta was enjoyed. Much rivalry has sprung up in Canasta games enjoyed by the Puniszkos and the Lembkes. The men came out on the losing end in Saturday evening's game and the ladies have been crowing about it ever since.

Sunday, relatives from Chicago visited at the Puniszko home in further observance of the occasion.
